

Committee Selected To Examine Thruway Proposal

A COMMITTEE of five persons was appointed last night to study the engineering report submitted to the State Highway Department on four possible routes for the Stroudsburg Thruway.

The action took place in a meeting of nearly 30 Stroudsburg and Stroud Township residents at the YMCA in Stroudsburg and followed a discussion of the route recommended by the engineering firm of Gannett, Fleming, Corddry and Carpenter, Inc., of Harrisburg.

Named to the committee were Harold C. Edwards, Edwin F. Buck, Edward A. Katz, Ralph

W. Speiser and Alfred J. Schaefer.

They will elect their own chairman, make a study of the report and possibly call in one of the engineers who prepared it or a Highway Department engineer to clarify any points in question.

Most of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the route recommended by the engineering firm as the one it felt "would cost no more than any of the other lines, will serve local and through traffic better and will provide a necessary additional link between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg."

A number of persons attending criticized this plan and questioned whether it is better than at least one of the other possible routes.

Attorney Edwards, for example, attacked the proposed "thruway" which, he said, would "go through the center of town," and called instead for a "by-pass that passes the town by."

He recalled local efforts to obtain a highway that would carry Route 611 from Delaware Water Gap over Godfrey's Ridge to connections with Route 209 west of Stroudsburg and present

Route 611 north of the borough near where the proposed Thruway would connect.

He chided Borough Council for approving the engineering report and intimated that council had acted hastily on the matter. Edwards declared the Godfrey's Ridge route would be shorter than the suggested plan (which the engineers claim is the shortest of the four surveyed).

Edwards also said his plan would be cheaper because it would cut across an unsettled section of the ridge.

"We want something that will satisfy everyone," he said. "And we won't lose anything by holding out (against the Thruway plan recommended)."

One of Edwards' statements, that the federal and state governments would share equally in the estimated $10,000,000 cost, was questioned by the next speaker, Jack Kerlin, a businessman.

Kerlin said he had been advised the project qualifies under the interstate road program, in which the state pays only 10 percent and the federal government the balance.

Kerlin recalled that he, along with Edwards and a number of other citizens, had conferred with Gov. George M. Leader on behalf of the Godfrey's Ridge route during Leader's pre-election campaign. The governor promised the Stroudsburgs he would support a program to relieve the traffic congestion here, Kerlin added, and has made efforts since his election to carry out this pledge.

Kerlin recalled that when the engineering survey was undertaken by state officials, 18 area organizations supported the move and agreed to abide by the findings of the engineers.

The consultants' report, he said, indicated Godfrey's Ridge route calls for a grade greater than the maximum five percent allowed to qualify for federal funds. This is one reason the recommended plan was favored over Godfrey's Ridge, he added.

Buck, a resident of Bridge St., noted that the Thruway would be elevated at W. Main and Bridge Sts. as it passes northwest toward the connection with present Route 611 near CLU Park. He declared the roadway, if built of earthen fill, would create a serious flood hazard to West Stroudsburg and a lesser one if built as a viaduct with concrete pillars supporting it.

The matter of depreciating property values was brought up when mention was made of the elevated highway passing over the residential district.

These were subjects that were left for the committee to study, Roy Peterson, Bryant St., acted as temporary chairman of the meeting.

NEW YORK'S GOVERNOR Averell Harriman, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, seems to be peering toward distant horizons as he talks to reporters in Chicago.

Dellaria, Kent Vote For Averell

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Pro-Stevenson forces laid claim tonight to three Pennsylvania delegates who previously were lined up for Averell Harriman for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh said the switchover "made it certain" that the state will give 65 votes to Adlai Stevenson and put the former Illinois governor over on the second ballot.

"Three delegates approached us on the basis that they now prefer Stevenson instead of Harriman," Lawrence told a newsman.

Harrimans Entertain At Reception

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Gov. and Mrs. Averell Harriman entertained tonight at a huge reception aimed at furthering his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The social affair followed a day of politicking during which the Harriman camp professed to be encouraged by the number of state delegations that were postponing commitments as long as possible before the convention voting on Thursday.

The Harriman forces took this as a sign that any handwagon move to front-runner Adlai Stevenson definitely had been halted and that Harriman's chances of picking up votes were bettered.

Receiving Line

Harriman and his wife sent out more than 5,000 invitations to the reception, held in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Every delegate, alternate, and wife or husband, and various other party functionaries were invited.

Harriman and his wife, two daughters and a grandson stood in a receiving line at the ballroom door.

Some of the Harriman guests wore Stevenson or Lyndon Johnson campaign buttons.

Harriman spent the day largely in visiting state delegations or receiving visits from groups of delegates in his headquarters in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel.

He also paid a visit to Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, a rival candidate for the nomination. Johnson had been visited a short time earlier by Stevenson.

Johnson, originally regarded as a favorite son candidate, has said he is in the race in earnest. He possibly could hold a balance of power if enough Southern states supported him.

Johnson said he and Harriman "exchanged viewpoints" on convention problems, but neither would go into detail.

Some members of the Maryland delegation, including Michael J. Birmingham, national committee man, and George Mahoney, a prominent political figure in the state, visited Harriman.

They said they had a pleasant visit but their delegation had not caucused and still was uncommitted.

Clement Denounces Rival Party

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee lambasted the Republicans tonight as the party of "privilege and pillage" and predicted a Democratic victory in November that will "restore the people to power."

In the keynote address of the Democratic National Convention, Clement said the Republican administration has "a sordid record of broken promises and unredempted pledges" and President Eisenhower can't escape the responsibility.

"The President's record and his party's record are one and the same," the 36-year-old governor said in his prepared address. "He cannot pry them apart."

Clement also aimed some sharp-barbed shafts at Vice President Nixon. "The vice-hatchet man of the Republican party," and at Secretary of State Dulles, "unquestionably the greatest unguided missile in the history of American diplomacy."

In calling on the Democrats to wage a fighting campaign, he said they were not going to engage "in the 'smile and smear' technique" and would not tolerate it from the opposition.

"We are not going to sit back and watch one of the Republican candidates smugly attempt to lift himself above and beyond his party, meantime holding hands with the vice-hatchet man of the Republican party—without interference from Gettysburg—charged 20 years of treason to the Democrats," Clement said.

He was referring to Nixon's campaign speeches in the 1954 congressional elections—still ranking with many a Democrat.

"That kind of double-faced campaign by the opposition—the vice-hatchet man slinging slander and spreading half-truths while the top man peers down the green fairways of indifference—will not be tolerated by the Democratic party," Clement said.

He also struck out at the "Peace and Prosperity" slogan of the Republicans.

In a 10-count indictment against the GOP Clement accused them, among other things, of forgetting the farmer, liquidating labor's gains and of sacrificing the small businessman to his big corporate competitor.

"You cannot judge the prosperity of a nation by the earnings of a privileged monopoly," he said. And he accused the administration of following "a fantastic, frantic and fatal foreign policy."

He also said the one word that accurately describes the nation's present foreign policy is "drifting."

"Our standing among the nations of the world has reached an all-time low," Clement said, while the Soviet Union has been permitted to achieve "major diplomatic victories" in Asia and elsewhere.

But while slapping vigorously and caustically at GOP policies on the domestic and international front, Clement said the Democrats "are not just against the Republican party."

"The point is that we are just for the American people."

Chicago's Mayor Welcomes Crowd To Convention

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, Aug. 13 (AP)—Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago welcomed delegates to the Democratic National Convention today and told them: "With the help of God and with patience and understanding we Democrats . . . will nominate a candidate who will be the next president of the United States."

Daley said the Democratic party has "listened to the people."

Its purpose, power and vitality, he said, is the "great principle of resolving the differences to meet the highest interest of all the people."

Daley said that in the past 3½ years there has been little evidence of the kind of "bold leadership" he said had been given by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

Reuther Throws Support Toward Stevenson's Camp

Truman Drive Picks Up Added Steam

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Harry S. Truman's drive to nominate Averell Harriman for the presidency gathered more steam today. But there were no outward signs as yet that it was picking up enough delegates to stop Adlai Stevenson.

Leif Erickson, former State Supreme Court justice, told Truman that the New York governor now has 6 of Montana's 16 votes, Stevenson 6, and 4 remain uncommitted.

He said State Atty. Gen. Arnold Olsen still is uncommitted, but likely will go for Harriman and split the delegation about evenly on the first ballot. He said Harriman had only two votes before Truman declared for him.

Walter Claim

And Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.), an early Harriman booster, claimed, after a call on Truman, that Harriman picked up six Pennsylvania votes after the ex-President spoke out. He said Harriman would get seven uncommitted votes by the time the balloting starts.

"President Truman feels very optimistic," Walter reported.

Truman himself declined to speculate on the outcome of his drive, telling reporters to "talk to me after the first ballot."

"I'll have some inkling of the results after the first ballot," he said as he left his Blackstone Hotel suite to have lunch with executives of the Chicago Sun-Times in their private dining room at the newspaper plant.

The newspaper carried a blistering editorial this morning, entitled, "Mr. Truman Makes A Poor Choice."

Truman, who sent out for a copy of the newspaper, told newsmen: "I'm going to compliment them on that editorial. The Chicago Tribune must have written it for them."

"Whenever the newspapers get for me, then I'll know I'm wrong."

Convention Opening Quiet

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, Aug. 13 (AP)—The motto of today's Democrat seems to be: Everything in moderation, including the excitement.

For their national convention began today, and while few of these political shindigs are breath-taking in their early stages, these Democrats were, for Democrats, unbelievably subdued at their afternoon session.

It almost seemed as if it were planned.

Usually there is a simply way to bring any Democratic convention to life. Just play "Dixie" and listen for those Rebel yells.

No Noise

But neither the organ nor the orchestra let out a peep, of "Dixie" or anything else, while the delegates were settling in their seats.

The first cheers of any note came from those two well tested Democratic names, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. But the man who has preached moderation most, Adlai Stevenson seemed to be a victim of his own doctrine.

'Betsy' Expected To Hit Florida Coast By Morning

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 13 (AP)—Hurricane Betsy bore down on Florida's eastern "Gold Coast" tonight from the east central Bahamas at a clip that could bring the storm's fringe winds ashore near Palm Beach by morning.

Betsy's position was given in a U.S. Weather Bureau bulletin at 9 p.m. EDT as a short distance southeast of San Salvador Island, 430 miles from Miami. That was 30 miles closer to the south Florida metropolis than the storm's location at 5 p.m.

The bulletin termed Betsy "a small but extremely severe" hurricane with 120-mile winds churning around a small area of its center.

Black and red hurricane flags flew from Miami 169 miles north to Melbourne, Fla. Northeast storm warnings were displayed from St. Augustine to Key West, a stretch of 417 miles.

The storm was holding to its steady west-northwest course, moving 18 miles an hour.

As Betsy bore down on Florida, millions of dollars worth of property damage was reported from Puerto Rico in the wake of the hurricane's overland slash there.

Civil Defense officials said at least 21 towns, with populations of 3,000 to 80,000, were hard hit. Hundreds of Puerto Ricans were homeless. A single death was reported in Puerto Rico.

"Betsy is not as turbulent up high as other storms I've been in," said Robert H. Simpson, chief of the Hurricane Research Center at West Palm Beach, who flew through and around the storm all day in a B-50 equipped with special instruments for studying the structure of the tropical twister.

"I'd say this is a good, average storm if there is any such thing," said Simpson.

The east coast area, watching the storm since early morning when it ripped across the thinly populated islands of the southern Bahamas, quickly began preparations.

Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster of the Miami Weather Bureau, said, the Palm Beach point of probable entry is "just a projection of the present rate of movement as it approaches the coast."

Two planes probed the storm during the day and both found winds up to 120 miles an hour, Dunn reported.

Knowland Predicts Nixon To Gain Second Nomination

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) emerged from a 30-minute talk with President Eisenhower today and predicted Vice President Nixon will again win the No. 2 spot on the Republican ticket this fall.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he talked politics, legislation and foreign affairs with the President. But he wouldn't say whether he and Eisenhower had specifically discussed the vice presidential situation.

While saying he was "not in a position to go into detail" on his talk with Eisenhower, Knowland made this forecast:

"I think the ticket will be the same in 1956 as it was in 1952." Knowland also predicted Eisenhower and Nixon will be re-elected in November "by a substantial majority."

Eisenhower has said Nixon is acceptable to him as a GOP vice presidential candidate — but he has not closed the door on other candidates.

The President has given Harold E. Stassen, his disarmament adviser, a month's leave to work for the nomination of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts.

U.S. Agrees With Britain, France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The United States today proclaimed its "complete agreement" with Britain and France in demanding that the seized Suez Canal be operated by an international authority instead of solely by Egypt.

In a move to spike reports of a Big Three split on this key issue, the State Department said all three governments believe there should be "international means" to insure that the strategic waterway will always be kept open.

No Alteration

"The United States has not altered its views in this respect," said the department, "and is not aware of any difference in the matter between the British and the French governments and itself."

This united American-British-French view was stressed on the eve of Secretary of State Dulles' departure for London to attend a 22-nation conference on ways to settle the bitter dispute over the future of the canal, nationalized by Egypt July 26. Egypt is boycotting the parley.

Dulles will head a 23-man delegation of top ranking officials including American ambassadors to Russia, France and Britain, three assistant secretaries of state and an assistant secretary of defense.

Rescue 13 Airmen

LE HAVRE, France, Aug. 13 (AP)—A U.S. Air Force flying boat rescued 13 American airmen adrift in an English Channel rainstorm tonight. Then it taxied through 20 miles of choppy seas to bring them to port.

Platform Drafters Seek Tax Change

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Democratic platform drafters proposed tonight that their party pledge a $200-a-year increase in personal exemptions under the federal income tax.

This would put the exemption at $800 a person. It would save lower income families an average of about $40 a year for each member. For a family of four this would be a saving of $160.

Steelworkers Strike

LACKAWANNA, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—About 400 United Steelworkers left their jobs at the Bethlehem Steel Co. today in a dispute over operation of a new open hearth furnace.

Arabs Warn West Against Force

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Arab world warned the West today against using force in the dispute with Egypt over the Suez Canal. And the British Labor party demanded that Prime Minister Eden publicly guarantee Britain will not attack Egypt.

Britain pressed a buildup of air, land and sea power in the Mediterranean despite the warnings.

Gathering

Delegates of 22 nations were gathering in London for Thursday's conference, arranged by Britain, France and the United States, to consider international control of the canal. Egypt and Greece refused to attend.

In Washington, the State Department reiterated complete accord with Britain and France that there should be "international means to insure the practical and efficient functioning of the Suez Canal."

Behind the scenes there was a feverish search for a diplomatic compromise that would enable both President Nasser of Egypt and Eden to save face.

Forms New Party

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—A Brooklyn attorney announced today formation of a new political party. He said a major objective would be to get Gen. Douglas MacArthur's name on the November ballot as a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Adlai Reported Far From Magic Number

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Democratic choice of a presidential nominee remained a great enigma tonight as they trooped toward this amphitheater to hear the Eisenhower regime denounced as princes of "privilege and pillage."

On deck to deliver a stem-winding keynote address packed with old-style oratorical flourishes was Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee. Copies handed to newsmen in advance showed Clement describing:

President Eisenhower as a "front man" who can't duck responsibility for his party's "sordid record of broken promises."

Vice President Nixon as "vice-hatchet man" who, Clement said, falsely charged the Democrats with 20 years of treason.

Secretary of State Dulles as history's worst "misguided missile."

Electioneering

A day of hectic electioneering among the delegates sped toward a close with Adlai Stevenson still leading, but so far as anyone could see, still well short of the magic 68½ votes needed.

Running hard behind him was Averell Harriman, New York governor, followed by a cluster of favorite sons, some of them taking themselves pretty seriously.

At least one reported foray of the Harriman forces into the Stevenson camp came to naught. President Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers Union, a powerful influence in the Michigan Democratic caucus, said flatly "I'm for Stevenson."

He had been reported leaning that way for some time, but Harriman strategists were understood to have tried to swing him their way.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, with the Lone Star delegation yelling encouragement, definitely was making himself available.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche refused to cut loose his Ohio delegation, although he wasn't out shaking the bushes for support elsewhere.

As Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler slammed down a gavel and banged the convention into business at 1:03 p. m., EDT, party leaders were talking harmony, blasting the GOP, and still uncertain who would be tapped to lead the Democratic loyal against President Eisenhower in November.

The convention kickoff in this vast stockyards amphitheater took only an hour and three quarters. It was routine, and meant to be—organization matters, welcoming speeches and getting set for tonight's keynote address by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee and a speech by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Delegates

Still, it did give delegates with little else to do a chance to turn out and let off steam.

More and more, the convention was beginning to come up with that previously lacking convention atmosphere that turns adults into zany once every four years.

There were the usual exterior trimmings—band, bugle corps, bunting, banners, buttons, and all the other things that help make these affairs a cross between carnival and crazy house.

Behind the facade, maneuvering through downtown hotel rooms and meeting halls, presidential aspirants were on the prowl for every vote they could wrangle. Platform drafters tried for civil rights plank that would gloss over North-South differences about the school desegregation issue.

Five Local Persons Receive Treatment At Dispensary

WEEKEND CASUALTIES treated at the dispensary of the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg included Peter Helwig, of Allentown, who cut his right index finger. Three stitches were taken to close the wound. Ephraim Mitchell, of 407 Main St., Stroudsburg, was treated for a furuncle of the left arm. A dressing was applied.

Charles McNeal, 17, Stroudsburg, cut the back of his left hand while at work. Four stitches were taken. Larry Smith, of Lenox Ave., East Stroudsburg, and six years old, suffered no fracture when a swing fell on his foot.

Kenneth Van Horn, 15, of East Brown St., East Stroudsburg, received a small rat bite on the tip of his left thumb. Tetanus antitoxin was administered.

Mary Shamp, 14, of East Stroudsburg RD 2, fell off a small dump truck and fractured her right wrist.

Former General Dies In Hospital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Roland Walsh, 64, former commanding general of the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot, died today at Walter Reed Army Hospital after a long illness due to cancer.

Walsh, who was born in Charleston, S. C., on Oct. 5, 1891, is survived by his widow, the former Dorothy Johnson of Washington, D. C.

Heroine To Marry

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—A Malay girl who defied Japanese torturers during the war plans to marry William Spalding, 26-year-old British lawyer, next month.

The girl, Dawn Kathigasu, 19, is studying medicine here. When she was 6, Japanese military police strung her from a tree over a fire, trying to force her mother to reveal secrets on the Malayan resistance movement.

Dawn shouted to her mother not to speak. A senior officer intervened and saved the girl. She and her mother were cited for bravery by the British and Malayan governments.

Tokyo Police Report Thefts

TOKYO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Police today reported a rash of thefts of brass nameplates, lampposts and manhole covers. They blamed it on increases in the price of scrap metal.

The thievery has even spread to the entryway of the Tama Mausoleum, where the remains of Japan's late Emperor Taisho are enshrined. Scavengers made off with three name plates, 32 metal lamps and 70 railing decorations there which will cost more than $2,000 to replace.

Stroudsburg Mayor Diverts Heavy Traffic To Ann St. Outlet

Latest Action Rekindles Legal Battle

CONTENDING that Stroudsburg is faced with "a serious traffic emergency," Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris yesterday resumed diverting heavy truck traffic off Main and into Ann St.

The mayor's latest action immediately rekindled his dispute with local trucking firms and Ann St. residents. Following a court hearing in June, attorneys for the burgess and a local trucking firm reached an agreement whereby Harris was allowed to divert traffic only on Thursday through Saturday during the summer months.

However, the mayor said last night the borough is faced "with a serious traffic emergency and the heaviest bottleneck in Pennsylvania."

"Last year," Harris said, "7½ million cars passed the intersection of Seventh and Main Sts. on Routes 209 and 611—and that's according to an official Highway Department count."

"As long as I'm the legal officer here, I shall always do my duty in protecting Main St. merchants and business people," the mayor stated. "I will also seek to assist outlying resorts so that their clients won't be delayed an hour or more in traveling from Delaware Water Gap to Stroudsburg."

Therefore, Harris directed Police Chief James McConnell to take Patrolmen Russell Decker and Charles Allen off night duty and reassign them to traffic duty at Seventh and Ann Sts., and at Ninth and Main Sts.

Both officers began diverting commercial traffic into Ann St. yesterday morning.

Harris also ordered that Patrolman William Dwyer be assigned to traffic duty at Fifth and Main Sts. Dwyer was to send westbound traffic on Routes 90 and 209 into Ann St.

The mayor's action drew immediate comment from Atty. J. Joseph McCluskey, counsel for the trucking firm seeking to obtain the injunction restraining Harris from diverting truck traffic into Ann St.

Noting he had only heard of the mayor's latest action second-hand, McCluskey stated: "On the basis of what I've been told, it seems that, in the absence of any real emergency, the mayor has violated the terms of his agreement with us."

From reports he heard, the attorney noted, Harris' latest action appeared to be directly contrary to the provisions of the compromise agreement and an open defiance of the order of the court.

"We will take the necessary and appropriate steps to see that the court order is complied with as far as we can," McCluskey said.

However, the burgess denied his action was in violation of any agreement or court order.

"The law's on my side," said Harris. "I have a legal right to act when there is a necessity, and it is certainly necessary to get these slow moving trucks through town."

The mayor claimed that the heaviest traffic of the Summer passed through the Stroudsburg business section a week ago Monday. Yesterday, traffic was again exceptionally heavy.

Burgess Proclaims 'Day' For Area Crippled Children

CHIEF BURGESS HAL H. HARRIS, of Stroudsburg, yesterday designated Aug. 22 as Union Barbers' Day for Crippled Children.

This day will mark the second annual Union Barbers' Day for Crippled Children during which A. F. of L. union barbers of the Journeymen Barbers, Hairdressers, Cosmetologists and Proprietors of the International Union of America will give one day's wages to help crippled children in the Stroudsburg area.

The mayor pointed out, "It is not only an American heritage and responsibility, but a basic precept of good citizenship and a privilege of the people of this city to help our crippled children grow up to lead more happy, useful lives and the opportunity of becoming self-sustaining adults."

He pointed out that progress made in the care and treatment of crippled children is more spectacular than in any other single field of activity. This has been accomplished by a revolutionary change in the attitude of the people toward the handicapped and has created acceptance for the person who must walk with braces and crutches.

"The gradual increase in the number of crippled persons being treated is directly responsible to growing public support. It is especially significant at this time that such a large group of skilled tradesmen as the International Barbers' Union has recognized this need and is willing to lend a helping hand in this tremendous task of rehabilitation for our young people."

Two Automobiles Collide Near Brodheadsville On Route 115

BRODHEADSVILLE—A two-car collision on Route 115 here at 4:40 p. m. yesterday caused a total $350 damage. But neither operator was injured.

Fern Ridge State Police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Jerol Strohm, 26, of Lake Harmony, crashed into the rear of another auto operated by Ruth Zelitch, 30, of Hamden, Conn.

Proceeding South

Both cars were proceeding south on Route 115, when the Zelitch car started to make a right turn into a general store parking area, troopers said. Strohm applied his brakes, but his car skidded on the wet highway.

Truck Crashes Into Bridge Near Milford

MILFORD—A 28-year-old truck driver was seriously injured early yesterday when his tractor-trailer overturned after crashing into the temporary bridge on Route 209, three miles south of here.

Raymond Ahlbrandt, of 329 Antelope St., Exeter, Pa., was described as being in "poor" condition last night at St. Francis Hospital, Port Jervis, where he underwent surgery for serious internal injuries. State Police said he also suffered shock.

The mishap occurred at 2:50 a. m. as Ahlbrandt was driving north on Route 209, investigating Trooper Robert Smith disclosed. The driver went off the left side of the road, and then crashed into the five guard posts, and the bridge rail, and overturned.

Finding

A local resident found Ahlbrandt lying on the ground when he arrived, troopers said.

He was taken to the hospital by the Milford Fire Department ambulance.

State Police estimated damage at $1,000. The tractor was owned by the Kingston Motor Vehicle Rental Corp., and the semi-trailer, in which he was hauling furniture, was owned by Nelson & Son, Kingston.

Police Reserve Organization Meets Today

POLICE RESERVE of Monroe County will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 tonight in the East Stroudsburg Municipal Building. All members are urged to attend.

The Police Reserve was reorganized during the past year and is operating under new leadership. It was reported by Emerson F. Stanton, president. Following the reorganization, members attended police school with other officers within the county for a 24-week course under the direction of Arthur V. Jones, and in accordance with the prescribed program of the State Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Vocational, Guidance. Certificates of attainment were awarded in advanced police procedure.

Active

The organization has been active in outfitting members with uniforms, and in perfecting duties at such locations as the Tobyhanna State Park, and Big Pocono State Park, for the State Department of Forests and Waters, Mount Pocono Firemen's Carnival, in addition to handling traffic and parking each Sunday at the Mount Pocono Catholic Church during the Summer months, and traffic at an East Stroudsburg super market on Fridays and Saturdays.

Stanton said the reserve is a non-profit organization, whose members are selected after they complete a membership application, which is designed after the regular Civil Service Police application. In addition, it requires the recommendation and signature of a chief, assistant chief or township officer.

The organization is incorporated and chartered in Pennsylvania. It is the only such chartered group in the county, according to Stanton.

Stanton said services of the organization are available to all boroughs, townships and other agencies needing additional assistance.

A ladies auxiliary is being formed, and will hold a bake sale at Penney's Store in Stroudsburg on Aug. 25.

Railroads May Seek Freight Hike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 —Representatives of five major eastern railroads today gave the Interstate Commerce Commission informal notice that the carriers operating seek another freight rate increase in eastern territory may shortly.

The delegation, composed of officials of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Nickel Plate and Erie Railroads called on acting ICC Chairman Owen Clark and Commissioners Howard G. Freas and John Winchell to discuss the matter.

Report

The commissioners who talked to them said the delegation reported that even with the 6 per cent freight rate hike obtained by the whole industry last March, the eastern lines still have an inadequate rate of return in relation to their property investment.

Commissioner Freas said the group did not mention any specific proposed percentage increase but said they simply wanted to keep the commission informed of their thinking.

Eastern territory consists of the area east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers.

Interchange Should Be Located Where It Will Serve Most Good

A spokesman for a group of E. Brown St. residents has taken the position that construction of the Prospect St. interchange of the proposed Thruway will "dump" 5,500 cars on East Stroudsburg streets and cause "unreasonable... congestion."

He was building his argument on the plan recommended by a firm of engineering consultants and based on figures supplied by the State Highways Department which estimated that some 5,500 vehicles would be using the interchange daily by 1974.

Does this mean that, because of the interchange, 5,500 more cars will be using Prospect and E. Brown Sts. than are now traveling those streets? Absolutely no.

In the first place, the 1974 estimate is some 60 per cent higher than the present traffic count figure. This is because traffic experts predict an increase of that many vehicles by 1974. The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads goes even further—it sees an increase of 18 million cars by 1965 and a 100 per cent rise by 1975.

So the 5,500 estimate is nothing more than the present traffic count adjusted to the 1974 level for the three summer months.

Heaviest travel on the Thruway in East Stroudsburg would consist of through traffic that would not use the Prospect St. interchange. The estimate is 15,000 vehicles daily by 1974.

Local traffic would account for all of the 5,500 cars and trucks using the interchange.

It would not be any greater than the number that would travel E. Brown St. going to and from the interchange at Minisink Hills if the Prospect St. connection were to be eliminated.

In short, local traffic connecting with the Thruway will be using East Stroudsburg streets regardless of where the interchanges are located.

It follows, therefore, that the decision on locating the interchange must be made with a view to accommodating the greatest amount of traffic with the least congestion.

Elimination of the Prospect St. interchange will add to the congestion in East Stroudsburg, rather than relieve it, by forcing traffic to travel greater distances on borough streets to reach the Thruway. Furthermore, lack of a centrally located interchange in East Stroudsburg would force a certain amount of traffic to travel all the way to Stroudsburg to get on the Thruway, thus adding to the congestion in both boroughs.

Prospect St. offers the best opportunity for locating an interchange that most nearly meets the needs in East Stroudsburg. The Daily Record is convinced of this after studying the findings of consulting engineers hired by the Highway Department to survey possible routes and connecting highways.

East Stroudsburg Council, we feel, will be voting for progress tonight if it goes on record in support of the Prospect St. interchange proposal.

Birds Gorging Selves At Feeder Compared With Paying Of Subsidies

The one and only hobby which the writer of this editorial pursues is that of making crude things out of pieces of wood with the use of a home-use buzz saw, a hammer and some well-chosen nails.

The latest innovation came up in the form of a bird feeder. Now this little contrivance holds about one and one-half pounds of finely cracked corn at one filling.

On the initial filling, the feeder was completely ignored for two or three days. On the fourth day one slight sparrow, timidly sampled the proffered food, apparently found it good, and proceeded to not only fill his own gullet but scatter the seed on the ground under the feeder.

As each day succeeded the previous one, more and more sparrows appeared to partake of the unexpected feast. More than three weeks have passed since the project was launched. Each day now sees the complete emptying of the feeder as these wild little feathered things wallow in food which they do not have to seek for themselves.

My neighbor told me flatfootedly that I was making it too easy for them. And, of course, I had to agree.

But is this any different than the provision of huge sums for subsidies, and for other governmental services which call for enormous spending at the expense of the taxpayer? Doesn't it point out rather graphically the purported "one of every ten" now feeding at the public trough with consequent increase in the tax load with every new legislative group which comes into power?

Perhaps the taxpayer likes to see the federal wheel of fortune spin, as I, the householder, gets pleasure of watching the sparrows gorge themselves at my expense.

George Sokolsky Says...

Larson's Handbook For Republican Party Neither Inspirational Nor Philosophic

Arthur Larson, Under Secretary of Labor, has written a political handbook for the Republican Party, entitled "A Republican Looks at His Party." The very first words of the preface are shockingly optimistic and are undoubtedly intended to be so. Says Mr. Larson:

"The two key political facts of mid-twentieth century America are these: '1. We have greater agreement than ever before in our history on fundamental issues. '2. We have an Administration whose philosophy and actions reflect, more accurately than ever before, this general agreement.' Obviously neither statement is true, or we should have a monolithic, conformist civilization, static intellectually and barren emotionally. Harold Stassen's revolt, following upon Wayne Morse's rebellion and Joe McCarthy's irreconcilability, each representing a following in Republican ranks, disproves the statement that 'we have greater agreement than ever before in our history.' Our history covers a period of three centuries.

When a nation has an era of agreement, it is either under the control of a murderous dictator or it is dying. Surely the United States, during the Eisenhower Administration, is in neither of these circumstances. There are wide differences of view on every economic and social problem as we shall witness during the campaign. Larson recognizes that such differences will be expressed but he denies their legitimacy. He says:

"In the heat of political campaigns, it is to be expected that both these statements will be challenged. But in the perspective of political history, these two facts will stand out as the distinctive feature of our times."

Larson uses his book to prove his thesis and tries to state the philosophy of the Eisenhower Administration. Unfortunately, Larson does not possess the disciplines of philosophy and therefore stumbles when he tries to articulate a new one. He apparently is conscious of the fact that he is neither an Aristotle nor a Thomas Aquinas and that he uses the word, philosophy, in a very broad sense, so broad that it has lost its specific meaning. He says of it: "All this does not slip comfortably into some well-worn niche like 'liberal' or 'New Deal' or 'pro-labor' or 'pro-business' or 'left' or 'right.' This is because the New Republicanism is a set of ideas keyed explicitly to contemporary mid-century facts, while the familiar categories, drawn from earlier decades, are now largely obsolete."

That is a very tall order. He must think that something has happened in the middle of the twentieth century that makes our times different like a biological sport or a geological fault. But what has been this tumultuous occurrence? Was it World War II which followed World War I, the Russian Revolution and a universal depression? Or was it the mere appearance of Dwight D. Eisenhower in the Presidency that unrelates our years to the whole of American history? Surely such a cult of personality is not for a nation that has known Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln and that has survived Andrew Jackson, William McKinley, Theodore and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Without defining anything, Larson says that the "New Republicanism" is competing with something that dates back to 1896 and something that dates back to 1936. But what is the "New Republicanism"? Pages pass before the eye, but there are no definitions, no analyzable terminology. No egghead evolved the "New Republicanism." According to Larson, the 1896 ideology held "... that business should have completely free rein..." This, of course, nonsense, from an historic standpoint. The year 1896 marks altogether a different set of facts. Between 1897 and 1901, the United States enjoyed an unusual prosperity due to the increased world production of gold and the increased demand for American agricultural products in Europe. This led to the accumulation of enormous reserves of capital which were used in the formation of large manufacturing companies, despite the Sherman Anti-Trust Law which was enacted in 1890. It was not a period of the formation of the structure of our current industrial society which stood us so well during the two recent wars that in other parts of the world produced revolutions. One need not defend Mark Hanna to prove that facts are unsuitable for current propaganda.

Larson's book may be all right for campaign orators but it is neither inspirational nor philosophic.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

It seems to this corner that Ike is getting the works from the world of photography. We would, if we didn't know better, almost suspect a Democratic plot, with the cameramen in a conspiracy to put their nominee in the White House. If Eisenhower looked anywhere near as awful as some of the newspaper and magazine photos he himself would be frightened. You couldn't take a dozen photos of the healthiest men on earth without getting one or two that would make him look far from his best, but candor in photography has become such a fad that there seems to be a passion for tossing out the good ones and picking the picture that makes even the subject shudder and demand, "Are you friend or foe?"

You would have to go far to find a man who looks as well as Ike does so soon after leaving the repair pit. Only a few weeks out of the hospital, he looks better than some men will ever look if they are never sick a day. But we have seen many photos which must have been chosen solely because they happened to be the ones that displayed deep wrinkles, a distressed expression and other signs of wear and tear. Ike has a mobile face and of course, a series of pictures can catch many expressions not at all putting him in the Mister America class. We think it would be possible to take fifty shots of Clark Gable and get a few that would resemble the boy Who Stood on the Burning Deck. Can it be that the camera lenses are being made by the Democrats? It looks like dirty work at the photographic crossroads. Dwight Eisenhower is no Apollo. But he couldn't look that bad even when missing a six-inch putt.

The Editor
Daily Record
Stroudsburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

This is to present the stand of the East Stroudsburg Merchants Association in reply to a letter by Arthur M. Troegner published in the Letters to Editor column in the Daily Record of August 11. This letter is written, also, for the purpose of pointing out to the public and particularly to the East Stroudsburg Borough Council, who will meet to give approval or disapproval to the proposed Thruway, the reasons for our organization's support of the Thruway as proposed and why we feel it is extremely necessary for endorsement to be given to the Prospect Street access.

Mr. Troegner begins in his letter with the question of whether or not my previous Letter to the Editor was the result of formal action by our Association. The letter itself, which was published on August 2nd, was not a result of formal action by the Association as a whole. However, when the plans for the Thruway were first made public several months ago our organization went public on our record as favoring the proposal, and with the possible exception of only a few members, have since reiterated our approval many times, both individually and as a group. The letter itself was a result of action taken by the officers of the organization in order to clear up certain statements reported to the public which were found to be misleading.

In Mr. Troegner's letter he states that the number of citizens in his group opposing the recommended plan of the Thruway, "between 75 and 90," outnumber the membership of the East Stroudsburg Merchants Association several times. This may be true. However, this number is possibly the total number of people opposing the recommended plan with the Prospect Street interchange. Considering that this is the case, the membership of the many organizations in addition to the many citizens of the local area who approve and support the highways as recommended by the Highway Department and engineers, far outnumber this small group of "between 75 and 90."

The East Stroudsburg Merchants are certainly not alone in favoring and giving support to the recommended route. One of the other organizations giving full approval and support to retaining the Prospect Street interchange is the Eastern Pocono Resort Association. This organization, composed of over 100 business and resort owners in the two townships immediately adjacent to East Stroudsburg, has unanimously favored the Prospect Street access and is aiding and supplementing our efforts in opposing its elimination. The membership of this organization alone would outnumber Mr. Troegner's group. Not only the Eastern Pocono Resort Association, but the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, at its March 19th Board of Directors meeting endorsed action to oppose elimination of the Prospect Street interchange.

It is true that favorable reception and serious attention have been given to the points presented to Highway authorities by Mr. Troegner's group. However, it is the job of these authorities to consider all possibilities, but after considering all possibilities and plans, to come up with and recommend one which is best, serves the most people, handles the greatest amount of traffic, and is the lowest in cost. This has been done and the Highway Department and the engineers have come up with the one which is best, and that one is the recommended route now staked out, with interchanges both at Minisink Hills and at Prospect Street.

The East Stroudsburg Merchants Association and the other organizations supporting the proposed route of the Thruway do have many valid supporting reasons for our contention that the proposed route with all its interchanges is the best possible for the purposes for which it has been designed. We do not think that an access, a convenient, short and direct way to enter and leave our borough, will create traffic congestion. With an interchange at Prospect Street in addition to one at Minisink Hills there will be an additional path for distributing the traffic flow instead of it all having to be handled at one interchange.

As for the argument that 5,500 cars will be "dumped" into the area of Prospect and East Brown by the Prospect Street interchange, the same amount of traffic or more will pass that point coming from or going to the interchange at Minisink Hills. Or, instead, some or all of those 5,500 cars will use the interchange in Stroudsburg, adding that amount of traffic to town streets when it could and should be on the Thruway. Without the Prospect Street interchange all traffic destined for East Stroudsburg would have to follow the following choices: 1. Using the Minisink Hills access and traveling the Franklin Hill road to one of the streets intersecting it, which could be done if desired in any case. 2. Exiting at Minisink Hills and traveling the entire length of East Brown Street, a secondary road certainly not able to handle the traffic which should be handled by the Thruway. In the case of motorists traveling south and using this method of reaching East Stroudsburg, they would have to back-track, increasing their mileage by approximately 2 miles. 3. Using the interchange at either Seventh or Broad Streets (Please turned to page five)

Campaign Debt Kefauver's Biggest Bar To No. 2 Spot

Chicago, August 12 — Senator Estes Kefauver has a whopping campaign debt.

It's not less than $75,000 and is virtually certain to go higher.

This hulking deficit is one of the Tennessee's biggest roadblocks to winning the vice presidential nomination.

Another tough barrier is the strong opposition of former President Truman.

National Chairman Paul Butler, is also hostile to Kefauver, has been quietly checking on how much he spent in his numerous primary contests. According to Butler's compilations, the amount is more than $300,000.

Authority for the $75,000 deficit estimate is Kefauver's own Finance Chairman.

L. M. Polan, Huntington, W. Va., businessman, who heads Kefauver's fund-raising committee, disclosed this big debt in an urgent appeal to close supporters for money to wage a vigorous convention battle. Following are highlights of Polan's letter:

"You are familiar with the position that Senator Kefauver took in regard to his candidacy. It is exceedingly important to have the necessary funds to continue working towards getting his name on the Democratic ticket in order to ensure its success in the November election. At this time three different sums of money are required forthwith.

"The first is to pay in full the bills at national headquarters resulting from our past activities. The second amount is to continue the headquarters through the convention. The third is the amount needed for our convention expenses, including such items as a headquarters, reception rooms, buttons, banners, and all the other paraphernalia of a full-scale convention contest.

"The total of these three sums is presently estimated at $75,000. Your additional contribution, mailed directly to Senator Kefauver, will be of great assistance in boosting his already strong determination to maintain his active candidacy through the convention. He has more than 300 delegates pledged to him for Vice President, and we are looking forward to the outcome with the greatest assurance."

Up in the air—Former President Truman has made known his opposition to Kefauver to both Stevenson and Harriman. Harriman indicated he was eye-to-eye with Truman on that, although several weeks ago the New Yorker sought an alliance with Kefauver. Stevenson has refused to commit himself against the Tennesseean.

Stevenson has informed Truman that it is up to the convention to select the running mate. If Kefauver is the choice, Stevenson will heartily accept him.

Top leaders of Stevenson are split on Kefauver. National Committeemen Jack Arvey and David Lawrence, of Chicago and Pittsburgh, and former Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman favor Kefauver and are working hard for him.

But James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign director, is backing Senator Hubert Humphrey. Also supporting the Minnesotaan are a number of congressional leaders, among them Sothers.

Significantly, Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson is privately against Kefauver.

As Texas' "favorite son" candidate, Johnson is a good vice presidential possibility himself. He is assured of solid Southern backing on that if he wants it. Kefauver has little Southern support.

Arvey estimates Kefauver has a minimum of 395 votes for second place. That would make him the front runner for this nomination.

But the contest is highly fluid and subject to change at any moment. Still very much in the running mate picture are Senators Johnson, Humphrey, John Kennedy, Mass., Albert Gore, Tenn., and Symington, and Governor Frank Clement, Tenn., Mayor Robert Wagner of New York—and others!

Conventionettes — Governor Harriman sounded out advisers about challenging Stevenson to a debate, at the convention, on leading issues, chief among them foreign affairs and civil rights. Phil Regan, stage and movie star, sang at the session of the Resolutions Committee attended by former President Truman at his personal request. Regan sang at Democratic conventions for years, but was not included in the program of this one. So Truman asked Representative John McCormack, Mass., chairman of the Resolutions Committee, to have Regan sing at its meeting the day Truman attended, and McCormack readily agreed to that. Committee insiders are predicting the farm plank will advocate crop price supports at 100 percent of parity. The 1952 platform favored 90 percent of parity.

Busy Week In Military Circles

By Jim Riley

This is a busy time of year, militarily speaking, for Monroe County.

Stroudsburg's detachment of the 6th Marine Truck Co. is now in the midst of amphibious training at Little Creek, Va.

Company G, Monroe County's gift to the 109th Regiment is now in the early stages of two weeks of training at Indiantown Gap.

Both units represent all areas of Monroe County.

Paul Thomas, West Chester resident, was happy he visited the Pocono Mountains this Summer.

He was particularly happy after leaving the Stroud Township Carnival last Saturday night.

Russ Sharrbaugh, a graduate of Stroudsburg High, was one of the very pleased members of the Pocono Playhouse audience on Saturday night. "Rainmaker" was a hit with everyone present.

Sharrbaugh is currently working in a New Jersey law office and will soon become a full fledged lawyer.

Kenneth "Shorty" Risley, 34 Ransberry Ave., East Stroudsburg is currently a patient at the Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre.

He would like to hear from his many friends.

Howard "Spic" Marshall, 3 Bell Terrace, Stroudsburg, is a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital at the present time.

Marshall would like to hear from his many friends and would also appreciate a visit or two from people in the area.

Olivia Dreher, 804 Main St., Stroudsburg, is doing all in her power to make the Pocono Mountains Outdoor Art Show a success. The show will be held in Court House Square on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Les Carlton, former Daily Record photographer, is recovering from an illness at South Sterling.

Les plans a visit to Stroudsburg tomorrow or the next day.

The Inscrutable Sphinx (but Mortimer Knows the Answers): Fatsou Farouk mysteriously disappeared from his Italian haunts this week to hints in diplomatic circles that he's preparing an Egyptian counter-revolution, financed by Britain, France and Italy on the promise he'll return the Arab-Israeli war and settle mid-East quietness and for all, his supporters claim he still has a tremendous following among the Egyptian peasant and fellah class who aren't any better off under little Hitler Nasser, posing as a "President of the People." The "proletarian" uprising brought more starvation, and suffering. The tourist trade evaporated and foreign trade is frozen. (And the tummy-tossers are having it bad, too.)

Hollywood, but I Won't: I suppose the press agent got it from a Calif. column, but it's new to me (and may be to you) so I will note for the record that Tom Neal, who got into trouble with Franchot Tone over Barbara Payton, and I wonder what became of her), is supposed to be secretly wed to a gal named Patricia Fenton, whoever she is... Handsome John Carroll, the screen actor and my favorite baritone, is a big thing (for the publicity releases anyway) with Fawzia Amir, a belly-dancer (see above), but I bet he hasn't seen Neila Ates... Seems to me like only yesterday that I wrote that Huntz Hall, former Dead End Kid, and Cleo Moore, are dating, but maybe it was the day before or someone else... Big ha-ha in Hwd when Ty Power accidentally received the alimony check that Edmund Purdom sent his wife... Edmund's, I mean, not Ty's.

I Don't Care (And I'm Sure You Don't): That woman with the light yellow blonde coiffure at the Japanese film preem at the Museum of Modern Art was—and you'll never guess it—Eleanor Roosevelt... That was no safe-cracker you saw through the window of El Borracho at 4:30 the other a.m. It was Harvey Rosen, the new owner, who wrestled with the dial for an hour with a flashlight in his hand. It seems that Nicky Quattrocchi, the retiring owner, gave him the combination in Italian... Get a load of this: When the New Martin Dept. store opened in Babylon last week it featured the name of the architect—Morris Lapidus—above the store name, with the billing "Lapidus presents Martin's" and movies please note.

(depending on which direction the traffic is moving) and traveling into Stroudsburg, through lower Main Street, across the interborough bridge and into East Stroudsburg via Washington or Brown Street.

Motorists traveling north and using this method would again have to back-track, increasing their mileage, too, by approximately two miles, in addition to adding traffic to town streets in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg when it should be on the Thruway. Traffic bound for the Thruway from East Stroudsburg would have to use the same routes only of course in the opposite direction. As far as trucks are concerned, those destined for and leaving the industrial area of East Stroudsburg would use the Minisink Hills interchange in any case and would not hamper passenger cars which, without the Prospect Street access, would have no choice but to use the same exit and entrance as the trucks.

The Daily Record, on August 7, quoted an opponent of the Prospect St. plan as saying the East Stroudsburg School Board has gone on record as opposing the Prospect Street interchange. This has since been denied by the board. The School Board did, however, request the high volume traffic, not pass school areas.

With or without an interchange at Prospect Street, there would be no more or less traffic passing school areas, except in the following cases if the Prospect Street interchange is eliminated: 1. If the majority of traffic destined for East Stroudsburg uses the Franklin Hill road and travels the streets now existing to reach the center of East Stroudsburg, there would be a definite increase in the amount of traffic traveling on N. Courtland Street passing the High and Grade Schools. Considering the increase in number of students when the new High School is constructed, the seriousness of this situation is intensified. 2. If and when East Broad Street is opened to reach the Franklin Hill road, traffic using that street headed for downtown East Stroudsburg would pass directly in front of the Junior High School and then in addition pass within a block of the High and Grade Schools.

With an interchange at Prospect Street there would not necessarily be an increase in the amount of traffic passing the College Training School or the Parochial School; traffic destined for or leaving downtown East Stroudsburg using either the Prospect Street or Minisink Hills interchange without the Prospect Street access would still pass these areas. If less traffic did pass these schools, then traffic using the alternate routes would have to pass the other school areas, areas in which there not only are greater numbers of school children, but also a large number of other pedestrians and vehicles, such as those entering and leaving the industrial plants in the N. Courtland Street area.

Cost has been another factor considered by those who are making efforts to alter the plan of the Thruway and, eliminate the Prospect Street access. It has been shown by the reports made by the engineers that the route recommended is the least costly. The opposition group claims that the cost will be increased when property in the East Brown-Prospect Street area is bought for the right-of-way, and that tax revenue from those properties will be reduced.

The Daily Record in its August 13 editorial has told of the increase rather than decrease in property values along a Thruway. It has also been proven that changes in plans and delays in construction due to opposition has increased costs many times. Examples locally of this point are the increase in cost of an East Stroudsburg sewage system which could have been constructed at a cost many times lower than the cost today, and the manyfold increase in cost of the Route 22 By-pass because of delays in construction due to opposition. Not only will there be increases in cost due to opposition, but there will be also the threat of serious postponement or complete abandonment of the entire project.

Those who have planned, engineered, and designed the recommended plan for our Thruway and the many organizations and individuals who have expressed approval of the plan certainly have not done so hastily and without thought. We all have realized the tremendous need for the Thruway and the many advantages which it will bring to our entire area. It will be extremely unfortunate if this project, with all its benefits to our area, is delayed or abandoned because of a few.

We therefore urge that the East Stroudsburg Borough Council favorably endorse the Thruway as recommended so that the progress and enhancement which it brings to this area will be realized at the earliest possible date.

Very truly yours,

Second National Guard Company To Move Into Area

Carbondale Outfit To Move Here

NATIONAL GUARD strength in Monroe County will rise to two companies in the very near future it was learned yesterday. Company G, currently the largest company in the 109th Reg. will continue to serve the community, but Company F will also move from Carbondale to Stroudsburg.

Officials of the 109th Infantry have been impressed by the recent enlistment drive conducted by Company G. The "drive" brought the company to 154 men and made it the largest unit of its type in training at Indiantown Gap at the present time.

The movement of Company F to the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg section will take place shortly, after the current two-weeks training session ends.

Current members of Company F, now based at Carbondale, will be divided between Headquarters Co. and Company E, both in Carbondale, and Company H, located in Honesdale.

According to advance plans, Lt. Richard C. Rugg Jr., current Company G commander, will be named to command Company F. Vincent Marek, first sergeant of Company G, will fill a similar capacity with the new company. Approximately 35 other men will move from Company G to Company F.

Lt. Nelson Silke is expected to take over command of Company G after the shift of troops. Anyone currently in Company G and wishing to transfer to Company F may be allowed to make the change.

Company F is expected, for the most part, to be made up of guardsmen from Bangor, Pen Argyl and the rural sections of Monroe County. Company G members will be made up for the most part of men from both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

Company G members are scheduled to fire on the mortar range and on the recoilless rifle range at Indiantown Gap today.

Old Sofa Reveals Money

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 13 (AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Webster threw an old sofa out of her caravan home and didn't give it a second thought.

But then, five boys began breaking it up for a bonfire and they found a packet with 3,150 pounds—$8,820—in banknotes stuffed in the back.

They took it to the police, who also found some billheads in the packet with the name "Horroviitch."

"We had that settee for 20 years, but we knew nothing about the money," said Maurice Horroviitch. "We sold it for six pounds to Mrs. Gertrude Powell."

Said Mrs. Powell: "I gave the sofa to Mrs. Webster last May. She didn't pay for it so I assume it's still mine."

And Mrs. Webster? "To think I threw out 3,150 pounds, Mrs. Powell gave the settee to me, so I suppose it's mine. I don't expect to get any money, but if I do I'll give her half."

It looks like legal minds will have to settle ownership. The police, meantime, have put the money in a safe.

Bushes Beat Odds To Mold Happy Life

MR. AND MRS. George H. Bush of Stroudsburg, RD 3, will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary tomorrow.

It's been a happy life for them both since they ran away and got married Aug. 15, 1906 in Wilmington, Del.

They've raised six youngsters—all of whom have attended high school and have operated a successful poultry farm near Bartonsville.

"They've been wonderful parents," said their eldest daughter, Kathryn, chief deputy register and recorder for Monroe County. "We've had a very nice life, and have been closer together than most families."

To show their appreciation, the Bush children are holding open house at the farm at 1 p.m., Saturday, in celebration of their parents' 50th anniversary.

What makes George and his wife, Margaret, so interesting is that neither can speak or hear.

However, both are amazingly self-reliant and industrious. "They have never depended on anyone," said Katy. "And they've taught us to learn to depend upon ourselves."

Mr. Bush went to the Mount Airy School for the Deaf in Philadelphia, after attending the Scranton Oral School. It was there he met his wife-to-be.

While there, Mrs. Bush held the school's sewing and athletic records, while her husband played both football and baseball.

"My Dad thinks every boy should learn to play some sport," said Katy.

Right after their marriage, George brought his city-bred, teenage bride to his dad's farm in Mount Zion. In 1911, they purchased their own 63-acre farm near Bartonsville.

Mr. Bush immediately began digging into the books on poultry farming. Soon he was operating his own wholesale-retail egg business.

At one time, they had as many as 1,700 white leghorns. However, they've now cut down to about 400 layers.

Moreover, until the barn burned some years ago, Mr. Bush raised and ground his own poultry feed. "He still claims he likes his own mixes best," remarked Katy.

Help Somehow he also found time to help other local poultrymen with tasks, such as culling their flocks. "There's never been a mortgage or note against the property," Katy also noted.

While the youngsters were small, Katy, being the oldest, acted as the "mouthpiece."

"But when we were very small," she remarked, "my folks had to walk to a neighbor's home for help, when one of us got hurt, because they couldn't call."

Now that they've grown up, all of the children have become successful members of the community. Joe operates a large garage in Bartonsville; Herb works for Tucker Chevrolet, and Ted is a farmer in Brodheadsville. Katy is a veteran courthouse employee, and her two sisters, Mrs. William E. Owens and Mrs. Richard Doleiden, are raising their own families.

"My parents got so much out of life," said Katy. "Television is the most important thing in their lives. "They read lips," she explained, "and always seem to have the gist of the story."

"Besides," she added, "my Dad is very well read."

Over the years, they've also won many friends. They attend a church for the deaf in Scranton, and still go to the alumni reunions at Mount Airy.

"My mother even 'talked' with Helen Keller," Katy said proudly.

DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as news copy deadlines, are necessary... in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production... and without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper... permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including CLASSIFIED DISPLAY, must meet the following deadlines:

Monday Copy..... 5 P.M. Friday
Tuesday Copy..... 12 Noon Saturday
Wednesday Copy..... 5 P.M. Monday
Thursday Copy..... 5 P.M. Tuesday

Growing Things—and keeping busy—have helped keep Mrs. Frank Shoemaker young at heart as she prepares to celebrate her 90th birthday today. She is enjoying the flowers she planted last Spring in the porch boxes at her home, 305 North Seventh St., Stroudsburg.

(Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Mrs. Frank Shoemaker Busy And Interested At 90 Years

Mrs. Frank Shoemaker will be 90 years old today but the years have not dimmed her interest in her hobbies or halted her activity around her home. Interviewed yesterday at her home, 305 North Seventh St., she had no advice to offer for a long life.

"Besides," she said with a twinkle, "nobody pays attention to advice anyway. But I do have a wish, a wish that things would get better and everybody could have as long a life as I have."

For those who know her, however, the explanation for her continued good health and spirits lies in her varied interests and in her activities. The flowers which bloom so profusely on the porch and around her home are an example. She planted them last Spring, and they show evidence of her continued care.

She still helps with the housework, too, and bakes her famous homemade bread. She is also in the process of crocheting a rug, and estimates that she has made at least 75 rugs over the years. She also is quite a reader, and reads the paper every day.

Has she any regrets at the changes the years have brought? Only that all her family could surround her again. There was a lot of family to be surrounded by, too. The former Emma Heller was one of seven children, a daughter of Daniel and Louise Heller. She was born in Plainfield, Northampton County, on

Rev. Elias Jones, Wife Honored At Supper

Portland—A covered dish supper and social time was held in the basement of the Baptist Church on Wednesday night, Aug. 8, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Elias Jones. Rev. Jones, who is retiring, will move in the near future with Mrs. Jones to East Branch, N. Y. to reside with Mrs. Jones' mother.

Randall Stine acted as master of ceremonies and presented Rev. and Mrs. Jones with a purse of money and a centerpiece from the members and friends of the church and Sunday School.

Those present were the guests of honor, Rev. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartow, Mrs. Sarah Evans, George Kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Stine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeWitt and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crawn and son, Mrs. Olive Cox, George Weidman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beck and son, Mrs. Phillip Strunk, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Michaels, Mrs. Roy Teada, Mrs. Austin Snyder and children, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Evans and granddaughter Patsy, Nancy and Jane Sandt, Mr. and Mrs. William Wisk and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Walter LaBarre, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stine and son, Mrs. A. Conos, Mrs. Charles Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. William Stine and children, Miss Margaret Stine and Wallace Stine.

Birthday Dinner For Mrs. Clare At Osnato's

Mrs. Florence Clare was the guest of honor at a birthday dinner party held Saturday at the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. John Osnato, Marshall's Creek. Swimming in the private pool was enjoyed by many of the guests. Sports prize was awarded to John Osnato Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clare, who live in Brooklyn, have made many friends during their frequent visits here. Among the local guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Booth, Mr. and Mrs. David Warrick and Mr. and Mrs. John Dean.

Former Pastor To Speak Here

Former parishioners and friends of Rev. Francis Walz are invited to hear him preach on Sunday morning at the Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg, at 11 o'clock. Their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCorkle of Pleasantville, N. J., will also be present this weekend.

The former local minister now has a church in Philadelphia. His wife is spending the summer at the Minisink House.

GOP Picnic At Speiser Home

The picnic of the Monroe Council of Republican Women will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Speiser, West Main St., Stroudsburg, on Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m.

Mt. Pocono Bazaar

Mount Pocono—The annual bazaar of the Mount Pocono Methodist Church will be held next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 p.m. Fancy work, baked goods and other items will be on sale. A supper with a choice of ham or chicken as the main dish, will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Watching the convention can be a fascinating occupation, but the constant flow of oratory, the confusion and the contentions can be a little wearing, too. If you'd like to step out of your time and your self for a bit, I don't know anything more refreshing than a visit with Mrs. Frank Shoemaker on her 90th birthday today.

To have come through so many elections, so many catastrophes and so many changes of the past 90 years would be enough. But to come through them with your sense of humor intact, and your thoughts on really important things is sort of a miracle.

Flowers to brighten the porch and turn it into a miniature garden — rugs to brighten how many homes — fresh-baked bread to nourish the body — these are important things. Things which will be important long after we forget who the losing candidate was in the election of 1956.

There are times when I wonder if maybe we might not all be better off, concentrating our time, our energy and our full attention on being good housekeepers and good homemakers. But then I'd never have had the chance to interview Mrs. Shoemaker, and that would have been a shame, too.

Rader-Fox Wedding At Richmond

Bangor — The wedding of Miss Mary Louise Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood M. Fox Sr., of Bangor RD 2, to Richard Burton Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton F. Rader, also of Bangor RD 2, was held on Saturday at 7:15 p.m. at the Richmond Methodist Church, Richmond.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Roger Stinson Jr., assisted by Rev. Henry G. Wells. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over slipper satin. It was fashioned with a scoop neckline edged in flower faille. The basque bodice had long pointed sleeves and the bouffant skirt was paneled in front with lace. Tiers of lace and tulle ruffles formed the back skirt. Her veil was of imported silk illusion, and was held by lace bonnet trimmed with coral pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Miss Louise Rader, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a blue and white gown of nylon tulle over blue taffeta with a matching headpiece. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Elwood M. Fox Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, wore a similar gown. They carried cascade bouquets of blue and white carnations.

The flower girl was Miss Susan DePue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald DePue, and also wore a blue and white gown of nylon tulle over blue taffeta with a matching headpiece. She carried a basket of blue and white carnations. Bruce Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood M. Fox Jr., and a nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bride's brother, Elwood M. Fox Jr., was best man. Ushers were Robert Eckert, cousin of the bridegroom; Allan Hill, Bangor RD 3; and Robert Hester and Donald DePue, Bangor, RD 2. Music was provided by Miss Marie Good, organist; and Miss Charlotte Bach, soloist. A reception was held at the Blue Valley Farm Show Building before the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to the New England States and Canada.

The bride, a graduate of Bangor High School and St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing, will be employed on the nursing staff of Easton Hospital. The bridegroom, a graduate of Bangor High School, is employed at the Easton National Bank. They will reside with the bridegroom's parents.

The 32nd annual reunion of the Boorem family will be held on Sunday, August 19, at the Stroudsburg Playground.

Theater Party, Bake Sale By Friendship Circle

Portland—The Friendship Circle of the Portland Presbyterian Church met on Tuesday night at the home of Miss Joan Kish. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Olin Cramer, the vice president, Mrs. Lloyd Newbaker Jr., presided at the business session.

It was decided to hold a bake sale on Aug. 31, place of sale to be announced later. The Circle will hold a Theater Party on Tuesday, Aug. 21. Members and guests to meet at the home of Mrs. Albert Newton at 7:45 o'clock. The Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Newbaker Jr. on Tuesday night, September 4.

Mrs. Otto Hochrein was welcomed as a new member. Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members: Mrs. Mason Reimer, Mrs. Albert Newton, Mrs. Otto Hochrein, Mrs. Lloyd Newbaker Jr., Miss Pat Repash and the hostess, Miss Kish.

Fetherman Family Has Reunion

Pen Argyl—The weather cooperated for the 39th annual reunion of the Fetherman-Fetherman families held on Sunday at Weona Park, and Stroudsburg residents captured many of the prizes.

Fred Fetherman, president of Stroudsburg, presided at the meeting. There were about 100 present.

In the awards: Mrs. Nettie Kitchen, 1106 Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg, was awarded the prize as the oldest woman present; Joe Fetherman, Stroudsburg, and Joanne James, Stroudsburg, were the youngest boy and youngest girl. Attendance prizes were won by Joan Place, East Stroudsburg, and Evelyn Kulp, Hellertown. Other prizes were awarded to William B. Fetherman, Allentown, as the oldest man, and to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts Herford as the longest married couple.

Officers were elected for the coming year with Blanche Ackerman, Bethlehem, president; Bill Sheeley, Stroudsburg, vice president; Maurice Ackerman, secretary; Helen Edinger, treasurer; and Mary Sox, historian.

Next year's reunion will be held the second Sunday in August at Willow Park, between Easton and Bethlehem.

There are 43 railroads which operate more than 1,000 miles of railroad each in the United States.

Jennings Reunion Is Held At Bangor Park

Bangor—The Jennings Family Reunion was held here at the Bangor Memorial Park on Sunday afternoon.

Officers for the ensuing year elected were James Jennings, East Bangor, president; Earl Jennings, Newfoundland, N. J., vice president; Paul Miller, Denville, N. J., second vice president; Mrs. Elba Jennings Kressler, Bangor, secretary; and Paul Kressler, Bangor, treasurer.

Entertainment was provided through an amateur show with the children participating. Judy Post and Clayton Jennings offered a mandolin and guitar duet. Mary Lou Jackson, Wendy Sue Dietz, Karen Ann Manson, and John Jennings rendered vocal solos; and George Pickett gave a cornet and vocal solo. Arthur Jennings rendered a scripture reading.

Prizes were awarded to the oldest man present, Charles Lohman, Allentown, age 85; oldest woman, Mrs. Charles Lohman, age 74; youngest children, Ann Louis Pritchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Pritchard, of Bangor, and Daniel Zeek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Zeek, Oak Ridge, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jennings, of Shamokin, were awarded the prize for traveling the longest distance.

Granville Jennings, retiring president, presided and offered the invocation.

Good Playground Citizens Honored; Pets, Hobbies Star In Playground Show

Outstanding playground citizens were recognized along with outstanding swimmers, accomplished craftsmen, and unusual pets in the annual Playground Day at Stroudsburg Playground on Saturday.

High point of the activities were the trophies awarded by the Lions Club to outstanding playground citizens: Truman Burnett, Carol Sabinsky and Lucille Davies, and outstanding swimmers: Patricia Everitt, John Gilpin and Suzanne Buck. James A. Somers, secretary, presented the trophies on behalf of the Lion's Club.

The show this year also took into consideration arts and crafts, hobbies, cooperation and badminton, although a great deal of the excitement centered around the pet show.

Rules for the pet show differed widely from accepted Kennel Club regulations, but all participants, animal and human, had themselves a time. There were ribbon prizes for the wildest pet, the tamest, the hairiest, and the most unusual.

Most unusual pet this year turned out to be a three-legged dog entered by Carol Gehris who wore his blue ribbon with pride. A duckling entered by Michael Torzillo was awarded red ribbon; David Torzillo's pigeon took a yellow ribbon while honorable mentions went to Patsy Ann Werkheiser's chicken and Lynn Mary Allen's miniature dachshund.

Honors for the wildest pet went to Lucille Davies' boxer, though Karen Stabelow's dachshund was close with a red ribbon. Tamest honors went to Jane Torzillo's kitten; red to Sandra Vaughn's rabbit; and yellow to the toy manchester entered by Diane Warner.

There was also competition for the hairiest pet with the blue ribbon going to Michael Chapin's spitz; red to Daniel Torzillo's kitten; and yellow to Maria Torzillo's kitten. All alone in the hairless honors was Carol Ann Sabinsky's chihuahua.

Donald Gilpin's fox terrier ran away with the blue ribbon in the funniest pet class, but competition was keen and entries many in the prettiest pet classification. The miniature schnauzer, owned by John Schnaitman, took the blue ribbon; the collie entered by Dale Robert Crouse, took red; and the collie entered by Burtie and Sue Werkheiser carried off the yellow ribbon. Honorable mention was shared by three pets: cats entered by Nancy Nolan and Linda Workheiser, and a rabbit by Carol Tanner.

The smallest pet was a turtle entered by Carl Yost and the largest the Irish setter entered by John Armato.

More serious were the awards made for hobbies with the wood work exhibit of Richard Everitt being awarded the blue ribbon; the doll collection of Cookie Scavo, the red ribbon; and the coin collection of Carl Yost winning a yellow ribbon.

Honorable mention went to Joyce Heller, stamps; Carol Sabinsky and Lucille Davies, house; Carol Sabinsky and Barbara Albert, badminton court model; Truman Burnett, ship; Nancy and Kay Altomose, badminton court model; and Ray Davies, drawing.

Also serious were the playground awards, presented by Samuel O. Wells III, to the following:

Arts and Crafts: Judy Dietrich, Halsey Melvin, Billie Burnett, Truman Burnett, Patricia Everitt.

The Monroe County Garden Club will meet on Thursday at 2:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Earl Robacker, of Stone-broke, on the Delaware above Shawnee. Mrs. Robacker will not only be hostess but will also be the speaker. Her topic will be "Early American Prints."

A guest at the meeting will be Miss Arla Joro, of Finland, who will speak on the gardens of her native country.

Mrs. Robacker will be assisted as hostess by Miss Ellen Hoffman, Miss Ida Bennett and Mrs. Raymond Rupert.

Women Politicos Consider Clothes For Conventions

By Jane Fads

Washington—What the well-dressed woman politico of 1956 is wearing will be demonstrated by top women leaders of both political parties when they appear on the convention platform and before the cameras this month.

Between conferences, phone calls, speech-writing, in the last-minute rush of preparing for the big events in Chicago and San Francisco, the women have been assembling their wardrobes. Femininity and practicality, becomingness and comfort, stylishness and good taste, are balancing factors keynoting their choice.

Bertha Adkins, tall, handsome assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee, has added a striking red hat to the collection of big-brimmed numbers so becoming to her which she will wear to San Francisco.

Katie Louchheim, good-looking, golden-haired director of women's activities of the Democratic National Committee, has bought herself a new chiffon-swathed boater type white chapeau for her platform appearance in Chicago.

As the weather will be cool in San Francisco, Miss Adkins is packing light-weight wool suits and dresses, as well as several tweed-like silks.

Mrs. Louchheim is putting as much emphasis on comfort as on chic. Thinking of all the standing and walking she'll be doing, she's bought herself some "air-conditioned" woven straw shoes in black and white with medium heels, as well as pairs of yellow and white soft suede loafers. For Chicago's dog-days weather she's stocking six or eight smart, simply-tailored dresses of both dark and light solid colors, with handy snap-on collars, and a charming yellow dinner dress. For the air-conditioned convention hall she's taking white and black sweaters. For the hot spots she's taking along several big fans.

Katie believes the clothes she wears will escape criticism from her male colleagues. Her husband Walter Louchheim, a financial consultant, passes inspection on everything she buys.

Securty Trust Wins Approval For Branch In Brodheadsville

PENNSYLVANIA BANKING BOARD yesterday approved an application by the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. to establish a branch bank at Brodheadsville.

The application was made under a new law requiring approval of the Banking Department and board whenever a banking institution wishes to maintain a branch outside the same city, borough or village in which its principal office is located.

The Banking Board found that "since the area in question is not served by any banking institutions located within a reasonable distance the need for new branch facilities is apparent."

Other Action

At the same time the board gave approval to establish a branch at Willow Grove, Montgomery County, as the Saving Fund Society of Germantown, Philadelphia. The board disapproved an application submitted by the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co., Philadelphia, to open a branch in the Bala-Cynwyd shopping center, Lower Merion Twp., Montgomery County.

The cases were decided on a determination of whether additional facilities are needed.

Hess Store Fined $500 By Court

ALLENTOWN, Aug. 13 (AP) — The Hess Brothers Department Store today was fined $500 and held in contempt of Lehigh County Court for selling steam irons below the fair trade price.

The court ruled that Hess Brothers, by selling Casco irons for $10 each starting last spring, deliberately challenged "the authority of this court," in violating a consent decree reached last fall.

Under the earlier decree, the court said Hess Brothers agreed that, except for Casco irons then in stock, it would sell no more under the fair trade price of $15.95.

Hess Brothers did not deny selling the irons for $10 each, but contended the Casco firm did not require other dealers to abide by the fair trade price.

THE RECORD

By Bob Clark
Sports Editor

A WEEK AWAY from the office leaves a dent in a man's armor that usually takes two weeks to plug up. However, old faithful Jim Riley saw to it that Clark wasn't even missed.

Jim, the former sports editor who left the domain of athletics for "better" things, coupled the sports beat with his own heavily burdened tasks for seven days and kept this writer out of the hole, so to speak. For this we say, thanks a million.

Fans in the Scranton area will honor one of its veteran diamond players next Friday night at Schantz Stadium, Dunmore. The Celebrity for the Night will be "Judy" Foytack, 56-year-old moundsman who still takes his regular turn on the mound.

Foytack, it will be remembered by the Strouds, hurled great relief ball for the Petersburg Blue Devils when the local nine visited Dunmore not too long ago for an exhibition game.

While the Strouds came out on top in the clash, Foytack's pitching impressed the local batsmen throughout his stint.

Foytack is the uncle of Paul, the Detroit Tigers' new strikeout pitching sensation.

Alex Traycheck reports from his Indian Mountain Golf retreat, near Kresgeville, that several industrial tournaments and civic classics are scheduled for the latter part of August.

Traycheck's layout has been enjoying one of its best years of activity this season with vacationers, and tourists and local area links lovers touring the course in abundance.

Ben Franklin High School in Carbondale finally filled its head football coach vacancy with the naming of local boy Andy Cerra.

Cerra, a graduate of Franklin High and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, replaces actually Jackie Swartz, another ESSC alumnus, who resigned a year ago for a post near Langhorne.

The Carbondale school had Frank (Cappy) Burnett substituting last season until a regular coach was appointed.

Cerra, who will teach in the physical education department, coached the Pioneers baseball team to the Northern Division championship this spring.

He will also assist Burnett in basketball.

Bob Rogers, the ousted but later reinstated in order to resign Nazareth High basketball coach, has accepted a $5000 a year position in the New Jersey shore area.

Rogers duties, however, will be strictly teaching on the junior high scale.

The American Legion Bowling League reorganized for the 1956-57 season at a meeting in the post home last night. Officials of the pin circuit reported that a bigger and better loop is anticipated for the coming season. Stewart Marsh is president of the league.

Art Wall, three-time winner of the Anthracite Open, will bypass the links classic this year because of other commitments. However, Wall and veteran Pocono Manor pro Jack Cattle will take on two top-named pros in a special match on the Manor's course in three weeks, capping the Mountains' retreat golfing season.

Stroudsburg, Eastburg Highs Slate Grid Physicals

Mountaineers Exams Friday, Cavaliers Report Saturday; Regular Drills Start Monday

STROUDSBURG HIGH'S grid candidates and East Stroudsburg High's football aspirants will report for physical examinations at their respective schools this weekend, headcoaches of the Mountaineers and Cavaliers announced last night.

Mountaineer grid boss, John Whitehead, said that Stroudsburg's varsity football hopefuls will report for medical examinations Friday at 9 a.m.

Whitehead also announced that the issuing of equipment to the Mountaineers will take place Saturday morning at the high school. Regular drills for the Stroudsburg eleven will start on Monday.

9 A. M. Saturday
East Stroudsburg High's head coach, Jack Kist, said that physicals for all candidates for the Cavalier team will be held Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. Immediately following the physicals, equipment will be handed out.

Kist also said that the first drill will be held Saturday afternoon, sometime after 2 p.m.

The Cavaliers are members of the Lehigh-Northampton League, while the Mountaineers pastime in the Lehigh Valley circuit.

Site Of Drills
East Stroudsburg will hold all workouts at the school's Memorial Stadium, while Stroudsburg will interrupt practice sessions at Gordon Giffels Field for a week's encampment at Sun Mountain Camp, Shawnee.

Fat Chicken No Opponent For Old Hawk

BOLOGNA, Italy, Aug. 13 (AP)—According to the sports experts hereabouts, the Old Hawk is never going to get a chance at the Fat Chicken.

The Old Hawk, in case you didn't follow the story, is time-resisting Jersey Joe Walcott. The Fat Chicken? That's Italy's big, gentle Francesco Caviechi, European heavyweight boxing champion.

Newspapers in Italy reported recently that Jersey Joe, who's up in the 40's now, challenged the 25-year-old Bologna farm boy to fistfights over here for almost any money.

Translation
Bologna's big sports paper "Stadio" translated Walcott's challenge into Italian thus: "Caviechi a big, fat chicken that an old hawk like me would like to meet."

But Stadio predicted that the Fat Chicken will never give that particular Old Hawk a chance.

Free Trip
"Walcott is past his prime," Stadio's editors wrote. "But a fight with Caviechi would only mean that he'd collect a pocket full of dollars and have an all-expense trip to Europe for himself and his family."

"That terrible left that once floored Rocky Marciano," the newspaper added, "is still good enough to liquidate the European champion in a few punches."

U. S. Invited To Take Part In Red Meet

MOSCOW, Aug. 13 (AP)—Russia invited the United States today to send a full track and field team on an all-expenses-paid trip here next July for a head-on clash with Soviet athletes.

Leonid Khomenkov, chief of the Soviet Sports Committee on Athletics, said that "Americans can send as many as they like." He said that the invitation, extended through Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, also has a provision for 1958 if the United States is unable to send a squad next summer.

Soviet Olympic Coach Gabriel Korobkov said Russia would like to have a home-and-home series like they have with Britain.

New Stadium
Korobkov offered the use of the new Lenin Stadium, where the Soviet is currently holding Spartakiad, her version of the Olympic trials. The Russians stated they were willing to pay all expenses to fly a team to Moscow and to house them during the competition.

The Russian coach said the July date would fit in ideally with the end of the U. S. track season.

(In New York Ferris said he had not received an invitation from the Russians since last year but he thought it would be possible to send a team to Moscow in 1957.

Babe Ruth Tilt Set For Today

ENGINE WORKS and Ronson will meet in a Stroudsburg-Barrett Babe Ruth League game at Gordon Giffels Field today, starting at 6 p.m.

Yesterday's scheduled Worthington Mower and Barrett clash was cancelled because of rain.

The BR will close out its regular season Thursday when Worthington takes on Ronson at Giffels, starting at 6 p.m.

No circuit game is on tap for tomorrow because of the Strouds-Tobychanna exhibition game at Giffels.

Stroudsburg LL Schedules Parents Night

PARENTS NIGHT will be observed by the Stroudsburg Little League Thursday at Little League Park.

Sponsored by the Little League Auxiliary with the cooperation of the circuit's managers and assistants, the observance will feature three, two-inning exhibition games between the loop's six entries. Games will begin at 6 p.m.

The schedule shows VFW meeting Penn Stroud, First National playing Security Trust and Peoples Coal taking on Colonial Diner.

Cakewalk
Immediately following the three clashes, a cakewalk will be held. In other business at a meeting of league officials at the Stroudsburg YMCA, the group unanimously voted to drop action on the questioned eligibility of a player in a recent game.

Slate Revised
President Jack Mullins also announced a revision in the final week's schedule.

The remaining slate has Penn Stroud meeting Security Trust today; National Bank facing Colonial Diner tomorrow; Parents Night, Thursday; Security Trust taking on VFW in a playoff of their tie, Friday; and National Bank opposing Peoples Coal, Monday.

Mullins said that immediately following the completion of the second half schedule, playoffs for the second half crown will be held if the standings necessitate a runoff. Following this the playoff between the first and second half titlists will be held.

Troy, Luedee In Draw Bout At St. Nick's

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Willie Troy, 164, of Washington, D.C., fought a 10-round draw with Jerry Luedee, 166, of New Haven, in the feature bout tonight at St. Nicholas Arena.

Referee Harry Ebbets voted in favor of Luedee, 5-4-1 while Judge Bert Grant and Mike Davidowitz called the rounds even at five each. Grant had Troy on top in points while Davidowitz had his point score at 7-7.

Favors Luedee
The AP score card gave the bout to Luedee, 5-4-1.

PGA Official Resigns Post After 6 Years

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 13 (AP)—Ray O'Brien of New Rochelle, N. Y., announced his resignation today as tournament supervisor of the Professional Golfers Assn. of America, a post he has held for the past six years.

O'Brien said the resignation would become effective at the expiration of his current contract with the PGA Tournament Bureau, Sept. 30. Here for the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Tournament starting Thursday, O'Brien said he reached the decision to resign last January but felt he had an obligation to complete the contract.

Ageless 'Satchel' I-Hits Rochester

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 13 (AP)—Ageless Satchel Paige flouted Father Time tonight by pitching a 4-0 one-hitter for Miami over Rochester in the seven-inning opener of an International League double-header.

Paige got a standing ovation from Miami fans after forcing the last Rochester batter to ground out with two men on base.

10th Victory
The win was Paige's 10th against three losses and brought his earned run average to 1.50.

Services Held For Ab Jenkins

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 13 (AP)—Funeral services were held today for famed racing driver Ab Jenkins.

The 73-year-old former mayor of Salt Lake City, who was a racing legend, died of a heart attack last Thursday in Milwaukee.

1st 1000-yarder

BETHLEHEM — Dick Gabriel, captain of Lehigh University's unbeaten and untied football team in 1950, was the first player in Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association history to gain more than 1,000 yards rushing in one season. He rolled up 1,023 yards.

Diving Clinic At Shawnee Pool Sunday

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE — Olympic diving star Lt. Robert (Bobby) Clotworthy will be the top instructor at a diving clinic scheduled for the Shawnee Country Club pool Sunday.

Clotworthy, holder of seven titles and a member of the United States Swim Team at Helsinki, Finland in 1952, also will give an exhibition on the fine points of diving.

Other Titles
Besides his Olympic jumps, Clotworthy performed in the Pan-American games at Mexico City in 1955 and is holder of the Mexican Platform championship — gaining the title in 1954.

Clotworthy led the New Jersey team in the annual Shawnee Invitational Swim Meet here on June 17.

Rain Drowns Dodgers And Giants In 1st

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Rain put an end to tonight's game between the second place Brooklyn Dodgers and the last-place New York Giants after oneinning of play. The score was 1-1.

The umpires waited 48 minutes before calling it a night. The game was not rescheduled immediately.

Reese Homers
Pee Wee Reese tagged rookie Joe Margoneri for a home run in the Dodgers' first. The Giants got their run off Carl Erskine, on two singles and a sacrifice fly by Dusty Rhodes.

Urge Placing Hialeah In Receivership

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 13 (AP)—A New York couple today sued Hialeah Race Course, Inc., charging payment of "enormous amounts of salaries, . . . and failure to make accounting," and asked that the race track be placed in receivership.

The suit, brought by Morris and Sylvia Rosner of Saratoga County, N. Y., named Eugene Mori, track president; Eugene E. Mori, his son, and four directors as defendants.

Seek Injunction
The Rosners asked for a permanent injunction prohibiting further payment of the "enormous amounts" for salaries and expenses to the Moris; an injunction against "failure in the future to prevent bookmaking activities on the (track) premises, and appointment of an accounting under direction of Circuit Court.

The Rosners allege that Eugene E. Mori was paid $20,000 for the current year, representing $15,000 salary and $5,000 expenses. They also charge that Eugene Mori receives $25,000 a year as president although he devotes a large part of his time to managing Garden State and Tanforan race tracks.

Braves Dump Redlegs 5-1

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 13 (AP)—The National League leading Milwaukee Braves tonight, temporarily at least, dented a Cincinnati threat by beating the Redlegs for the third straight time, 5-1, on the strength of Del Crandall's two-run homer.

Orders Said Play, So They Played

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Welsh Guards' band was ordered to play before the start of the Army-Air Force cricket match today.

That's just what they did—to an empty house. No spectators arrived for the match and all the seats were empty. Rain kept the fans away.

But the orders said play. So the Guards played.

Harness Drivers Are Suspended

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Suspensions of two harness race drivers at New York tracks were announced today by the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

Judges at Saratoga Raceway suspended Lawrence Beaudette of Detroit for 30 racing days for "brutal and indiscriminate use of the whip" during and after the second race, Aug. 10, in which he drove Lark Vibart.

5-Day Ban
Maurice Pusey, Canadian reinsman, drew a five-day suspension from Yonkers Raceway judges for what they termed a careless and reckless ride behind Mr. Galvin in the sixth race, Aug. 10.

British Girl Sets Record In Swimming Lake Ontario

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Britain's Brenda Fisher today swam Lake Ontario, crossing the 32-mile stretch from Niagara-On-The-Lake, N. Y., in 18 hours, 51 minutes, cropping two hours and 5 minutes from Marilyn Bell's recognized record.

Miss Fisher thus became the third person in history to best the lake.

Did It In '51
Miss Bell did it first in September, 1954. Three weeks ago steam-fitter John Jaromey of Toronto became the first man to accomplish the feat.

The British girl's gruelling swim crowned her second attempt at the Lake Ontario challenge. She missed out in a bid last summer that saw her retire after 12 hours, 43 minutes.

She was in good condition on the Toronto beaches, where she touched down near Cherry Beach Lighthouse, although in the final stages she had been reported tiring.

First Words
Her first words were: "I feel fine, thank you. I'll have my bath now."

The Ontario swim, which began on a calm lake, under a sky that varied from grey to brilliant sunshine, was finished in a driving rain, thunder and lightning.

Steelers Down To 49 As Six Leave Camp

OLEAN, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—Five players were released and another quit the training camp of the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers today, cutting the roster to 49 men.

Wayne Edmonds, rookie guard from Notre Dame, quit the squad. Apparently he was discouraged after a sprained ankle. These players were released:

Returns
Meanwhile, fullback Lionel Reed from Central (Ohio) State, returned to camp. He had left yesterday, saying he was about to be drafted. But, today he informed Steeler officials his draft board indicated he won't be called for several months.

Eddie Arcaro, Earl Sande and the late George Woolf were the first three jockeys placed in Pimlico's Hall of Fame.

Wally Moon Is Newest Card To Make NL Bat Title Bid

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Wally Moon, St. Louis' speedy outfielder, is the latest Cardinal player to make a bid for National League batting honors.

Moon gained 11 points during the week to boost his average to .327 and challenge Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, who leads the league with .340. Figures include games through Sunday.

The parade of St. Louis batting title aspirants started when Rip in the season, only to injure his hand and subsequently relinquish his position.

Boyer Skidded

Ken Boyer was the next Redbird to move into the thick of contention, but he, too, went into a tailspin after setting the pace. Six-time champion Stan Musial overcame a slow start and later forged to the front.

After Musial lost ground, Cincinnati's Ed Bailey took over the top spot before Aaron streaked ahead on July 24.

Aaron Slips

Moon, in his third season with the Cards, collected 16 hits in 34 trips last week in advancing from fifth place. The 26-year-old south-paw swinger hit .304 in his rookie campaign and dropped to .295 last year.

While Moon was having a successful week, Aaron slipped 4 points with 11-for-37. Musial, meanwhile, suffered an 8-point decline and fell from second to third at .317. Stan The Man went 9-for-38.

The New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle continues to hold a comfortable advantage in the American League batting race. Mantle leads the loop with a .371 average, followed by Boston's tempestuous Ted Williams, runner-up at .354. Mantle also is tops in home runs with 41 and runs batted in with 104.

Mantle delivered 11 hits, including 4 homers, in 27 official at bats last week and upped his average 3 points. Williams picked up 4 points with 8-for-23.

Mickey Vernon, also of the Red Sox, remained third despite a 7-point dip to .337. The veteran two-time batting crown winner obtained three hits in 18 trips.

Duke Snider of the Brooklyn Dodgers maintained his national League home run supremacy with 32 and Musial continued to set the pace in RBI production with 87.

Sugar Ray Splits With IBC, To Defend Against Fullmer

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Midweight champion Ray Robinson announced today he has split with the International Boxing Club and that he would defend his crown against Utah's Gene Fullmer in Los Angeles under the promotional banner of Cal Eaton.

"I'm going to give my decision to Eaton tomorrow," said the champion, "but I'm certain I'm going to fight for him in September on the 24th or 25th. I spoke to Eaton on the telephone later today and we've got most everything straightened out."

"I have to talk to some people tonight about television," said the busy fighter who motored down from his Greenwood Lake training camp to take care of business details. "Eaton offered me $125,000, including $15,000 for training expenses, and 60 per cent of whatever we get for television."

"I'm finished with the IBC and Jim Norris," said Robinson after driving down from his Greenwood Lake camp. "They don't want to give me a guarantee for theater-television so I'm going to conclude arrangements this week for a title defense against Fullmer for either Cal Eaton in Los Angeles or Bill Kyne in San Francisco."

Asked whether he was serious about his differences with Norris, an old pal, Robinson replied heatedly: "I've only got one title to put on the line and I'm going to get all I can. If I lose the title, I've got nothing else. Norris wants everything for himself. I can get more on the Coast and I'm going there."

Norris Hitches

"The hitch with Norris is over theater-television," Ray added. "We were all set on the percentages, 47½ for me and 12½ for Fullmer. I was supposed to get 60 per cent of the theater-TV but I wanted a flat guarantee of $100,000 for that which would get me $60,000. Norris wouldn't give me that, I only got $12,000 from theater-TV for my fight with Joey Maxim."

Exclusive Contract

Robinson admitted that he had an exclusive contract with the IBC but said he would go ahead anyway, adding the contract "is illegal and won't stand up in court."

Harry Markson, managing director of the IBC, agreed the club had an exclusive with Robinson but said "Whether he will exercise it or not, I can't say until I talk it over with Norris who is out of town."

Markson, meanwhile, indicated Norris had just about given up hopes of making a deal for the Yankee Stadium outdoor show, which had been ticketed tentatively for Sept. 18.

Harwi Wins Again At Nazareth

NAZARETH — Whizzing into the lead on the 9th lap, Easton's Otto Harwi on Sunday night high-powered his way to a 25-lap stock car feature at the Nazareth Fairgrounds.

Harwi, 1955 champion, was pursued vigorously by Easton's Ken Wismer, who finished about six car lengths behind.

Jack Bergstresser, Phillipsburg, N. J., had led for eight laps, but was overtaken by Harwi, and Bergstresser finally dropped out after 25 laps due to motor trouble.

When Bergstresser left the race, Easton's Fred Fehr moved into third position. Spud Murphy, Lake Worth, Fla., was in fourth spot.

and Russ Myers, Hawthorne, N. J., was fifth.

The first heat was won by Marty Acker, Allentown, in 5:08.2. Bergstresser took the second heat in 5:01.2.

Harwi captured the third heat in 5:02.9.

Consolation

The consolation race was won by Whitey Kershner, Reading.

Harwi is the No. 1 point leader at the Nazareth Fairgrounds, and continued his leadership with the victory in the 25-lap feature.

The second highest point man is Fred Fehr, Easton.

A full card of stock car races will be presented next Sunday, 8:15 p.m.

Cooley Faces Questions On Second Murder

DURHAM, Conn., Aug. 13 (AP)—State police today quizzed Everett Cooley, 25, New Haven, confessed slayer of a Durham man, and principal figure in a bizarre shooting-kidnaping, about an unsolved fatal shooting of a garage mechanic in Shelton nearly a year ago.

State Police Commissioner John C. Kelley, who yesterday announced that Cooley had confessed killing John Davis, 22, in a lover's lane shooting here July 28, said Cooley was being quizzed about the slaying of Robert Hart Jr., 26, on Aug. 17, 1955.

Hart was shot to death by a hitchhiker whom he had picked up. The slayer left Hart's car and ran into the woods. Investigation of the shooting was hampered by floods which devastated the state two days later, since all state policemen were shifted to rescue work.

Saturday
Cooley was arrested here Saturday afternoon, 14 hours after shooting Air Force Sgt. Albert W. Drepperd, 26, and kidnaping Drepperd's wife, Grace, 29, in North Branford Friday night.

While questioning Cooley about this case, state police succeeded in getting a confession from him about the Davis shooting. Davis was shot dead in his parked car, and Carol Brooks, 19, Durham, Davis' fiancée, was shot in the arm. She told police a man shined a flashlight in the car and fired twice.

Cooley implicated his brother, Milton, 28, Guilford, in the Davis slaying. Everett said Milton drove for him while he sought parked couples to rob. Both were charged with murder in Justice Court here last night. They pleaded innocent and will face a Middlesex County grand jury.

Our Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR TUESDAY, AUG. 14, 1956
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You are aided by a favorable position of the planet Mars now. Work quietly, but with fervor and results will be forthcoming. Extra good rays for outdoor activities, sports, promotion.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Clear and effective thinking and planning is the keynote to success in any undertaking now. Fashion your successes in this manner. Don't overstrain, become conditionally overworked. Keep calm.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Acquire a sense of awareness toward world trends now; don't let true opportunity pass you by. Improve education.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—A slightly inauspicious position of the Moon can be offset by directing energies at necessities, the specifics. Reduce needless time-absorbing operations to a minimum. Complete unfinished jobs.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—Inspire others with a respect for your innate abilities by setting a good example in all fields of endeavor. Don't let extravagance get the better of you; realize the worth of all assets.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)—Develop your inborn qualities (especially perceptive and imaginative faculties). Be all to the best of your ability. Resourcefulness is a good byword. Good advice in Gemini for you.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra)—Venus is in an extremely favorable sphere of influence. Don't pass up this chance to make advances through new methods, the social sciences, your occupation, and future planning.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Exercise the God given gift of free speech to expound good ideas, wise criticisms, but not at the exclusion of others. An open, constructive mind is best.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—The inauspicious position of Jupiter at this time advises against acting with haste or impetuosity. Deal with problems temperately, conclusively. Avoid extremes.

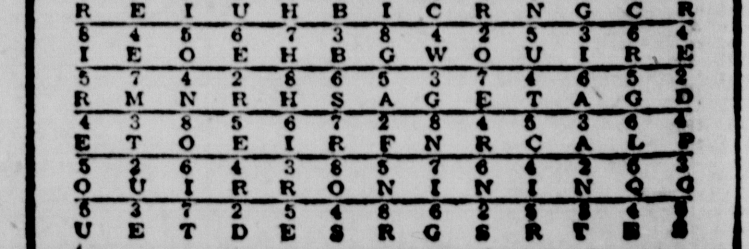

December 22 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Now is the time to make headway, utilizing all the organizational and managerial talent at your command. Beneficial results will depend on forthright, cheerful, happy attitude.

January 22 to February 21 (Aquarius)—The fine position of Uranus portends accomplishment if a conscientious and straight course is pursued. Take care not to fall into ruts, however.

February 22 to March 21 (Pisces)—Your latent talent and ability should be brought to the fore. Never leave the potential undeveloped. Be neither passive nor vindictive but, with logic, follow the path of the "happy medium."

YET, BORN TODAY are a combination of wit, enthusiasm, buoyant hope, moodiness and super-sensitivity. You can be the life of the party or the downhearted one, depending on your moods. Aim at steadiness, ambition, faith in yourself, your project, work or hobby. Don't squabble with loved ones for while you do not mean to cause differences, you can provoke them unintentionally. Your talents lie in a wide variety of occupations, especially for the military, law, entertainment, writing, public speaking.

Circus Lists Outstanding Riding Act

MALEY THREE Ring Circus expects to splash a lot of color during the remainder of this season on its trek across the country following the big show's opening Saturday at Stokes Mill on temporary Route 90.

With its many new and contemplated features, the circus will be new from end to end and feature an amazing array of American and foreign super-headline stars and troupes. Among them, and the first to arrive on the scene, is the internationally renowned Zoppe Family of bareback riding stars from Italy. Seven in number, five women and two men, they are conceded to be the most outstanding riding display in all Spangle-land.

Cucinello Zoppe, known as "The Whirlwind-Aerial Rider" is the featured member of the troupe and is said to actually "stop" the show with his spectacular riding.

Stars
Other stars and acts from abroad are scheduled to arrive this week. Those, of course, will be in addition to the American acts and displays in a program said to be the most varied and entertaining ever produced by Arnold Maley, owner and manager of the big show.

There will be about 500 people with the show, of whom over 100 are arene stars and performers, and it is significant that all of them, regardless of their respective white-top callings, are top-flight attractions. Of Big Show calibre, perhaps, is the modest way to condense Maley's bill of fare into one phrase.

Two great herds of performing elephants, companies and groups of educated horses and tiny Shetland ponies, monkeys, and canines, and furiously funny clowns, together with a big traveling zoo featuring a baby elephant, and a two and a half ton hippopotamus, are other circus treats in store for circus fans.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m.

Senators Make Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Pennsylvania's two Republican senators made plans today to arrive in San Francisco ahead of next Monday's opening of the GOP national convention.

Sen. Martin, senior senator and chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation, expects to travel by plane Thursday or Friday from his home at Washington, Pa.

Call
Martin had expected to journey west with the delegation leaving Pittsburgh on Friday by train. However, his office here said he received a call from convention officials to arrive earlier.

Sen. Duff, who is speaking to-night at Bellefonte, Pa., will return here tomorrow and take off from Washington airport at noon on Wednesday.

Both senators will be accompanied by their wives. Also travelling with Duff will be his administrative assistant, Gerson H. Lush, Martin's aide, George I. Bloom, is on leave serving as Pennsylvania state Republican chairman, and already has left for the convention.

WILBUR FRISBIE, of North 5th St., left Sunday to attend a conference at Wyalosing, Pa., and will return Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Stiff, of Harrisburg, but formerly of Stroudsburg, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Pensyl.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fehnel spent Sunday in Bethlehem with their daughter and son-in-law. Their granddaughter, Donna Jean, returned with them for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Osborn and George Osborn Sr. were Monday dinner guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans was a guest at a birthday party. Those present were James Williams, of Slateford, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Osborn, George Osborn Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brian and daughter, Elinore.

Mr. and Mrs. William LaBar, Mrs. Elsie Heller, Mrs. Elwood Heller and Frankie Smiley spent Sunday at Bushkill Park.

David Powell Sr., Walter Marshall, Wilbur Martin, William Freer are going to sing at the service of the Arlington Heights Chapel on Sunday, Aug. 19. Mrs. Martin will be the accompanist on the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Creveling, of White St., have returned from a trip first going to Hartford, Conn. where they visited Mr. Creveling's sister and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Souerwine. Then they motored to Washington, D. C., visiting the capital and congress, then to the shore where Mrs. Creveling stayed with her parents in Collingswood, N. J. and Mr. Creveling visited with his parents in Oklahoma and Texas and took pictures of interest that will help him with his teaching.

Stock Market Shows Slow Decline

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Another slow, uneventful decline was staged by the stock market today. Volume continued to melt away as prices wilted.

Turnover amounted to only 1-730,000 shares compared with 2-000,000 on Friday when the market performed similarly. Once again, one had to go back to the 1,610,000 shares traded July 2 to find a more inactive market on the records.

If there was any particular news that could depress prices it was the latest tightening of credit, this time by major commercial paper dealers, but interest rates have been rising for months.

Traders and investors seemed either hesitant or preoccupied at cross-currents of news emanated from the American political scene now that the convention season is on and as furries of reports continued to come from the Suez Canal crisis. Some brokers felt that the protracted summer rise may have reached a turning point.

The drop on average represented an estimated decline of about 1 1/2 billion dollars in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.30 to $184.20, with the industrials down $1.80, the rails down $1.60 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Of 1,132 issues traded—a comparatively narrow market—declines outnumbered advances by 655 to 260. There were 17 new highs for the year and 22 new lows.

For the second straight session, Gulf Oil was the day's most active stock. This time it was off 4 1/2 at 127 1/2 on 35,000 shares. Second was Standard Oil of Indiana, up 1/2 at 65 1/2 on 23,400 shares. Third was United Dye & Chemical off 1/2 at 14 1/2 on 23,100 shares.

Corporate bonds were lower. U. S. treasury obligations declined in the over-the-counter market.

Newspaper Personality Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 13 (AP)—George Olds, 60, former managing editor of the Springfield News papers, Inc., publisher of the Daily News Leader and Press, died of a heart attack yesterday. Olds began his newspaper career on the Middletown, N. Y., Daily Argus. Later he worked on papers in Erie, Pa., Philadelphia, and Geneva, N. Y.

Why Let this Happen to You?

Probably there's no prize big enough to persuade you to take the Barrel Local over the original Wide Angle Waterfall. You get away from it all—but it's so permanent!

But the same Safe and Sane Sam who wouldn't risk his neck in a damp wading pool will invite sudden death by passing on the right side on narrow or winding roads. Why take chances?
